

is returning to Hill Creek!

CYT@school is devoted to introducing performing arts to children, one school at a time, by providing a high-quality experience that is educational and enjoyable. CYT@school students will perform in a showcase, highlights from:

For every student to succeed they need a well-rounded education. This includes performing arts. Visual and performing arts reinforce literacy, speaking and listening. They provide natural opportunities for students to communicate, collaborate, create and critically-think. After the exploration process students will share what they have learned in a showcase. Everyone receives a CYT@school t-shirt, along with a costume-piece that is provided. We use no sets and props are minimal.

Our emphasis is on the experience of learning about performing and then guiding the students to do their best. It's not just about what you'll see at the showcase but rather the process of getting there and what the children will take with them after the show is over – the joy, the hard work and feeling successful in knowing they've done their best. These things are immeasurable.

All students in grades 1-8 are welcome yet there are a limited number of spots available. Let us know if your child has any special needs so we can be prepared to help meet them.
